

Your Intuition in Tarot – 7 Days to Meaningful Card Readings

by Amanda Goldston

Day 4 – Asking Questions

One simple question

Avoid multiple questions in same sentence

What do you really want to know?

Best ways to ask questions

What, who, how, which?

Why has this happened to me? – maybe better what is the lesson or what do I need to learn

What would be the outcome if I... ?

What should I be aware of?

What do I need to know about this situation?

What is my best next step?

What else?

Who could help me to resolve this?

Who might present a challenge to me?

How do I resolve this?

Which option should I choose?

Ask clarification questions

What is this card trying to tell me?

What does this card mean to me in this position in relation to my question?

What is the message for me?

What do I need to learn from this card or from this situation?

You can ask the cards – have you understood my question?

Questions to avoid or phrase very carefully with one single question

Am I going to? Will I? When will I? Should I?

Yes-no questions – often mixed answers because there the answer can be part yes/part No

Avoid loaded questions

Avoid asking the same question in multiple ways

Avoid trying to trick the cards – they will sulk and switch off

Avoid trying to rig the answers

If you don't like the answer – go with it, ponder on it –ask a clarification question.
